Sierra Mesa Becomes New Site For 1967 Blood Bank

Sierra Mesa School — not Sierra Madre School — is the site for the 1967 Blood Bank which is sponsored by the Red Cross. Since the other school is condemned the Red Cross will make Sierra Mesa their headquarters for May 1. They are hoping that those of us who are creatures of habit don't go merely over to Sierra Madre School that important day. If so, we'll find the school quite deserted!

Sierra Mesa will really be bustling, with the six bed bank mobile, nurses and volunteers busy with donors giving to this cause.

Time for donating will be 2:30 to 7 p.m. Those at work all day will be able to donate in plenty of time, since the hours extend well into the evening.

Transportation will be provided for anyone who wishes to have the service. Babysitting will also be provided at Sierra Mesa. For further information concerning these services or any questions that need to be answered, please get in touch with the Blood Bank Program Chairman, Ruth

Don F. Schindler Joins John and Janet Curtis

Don F. Schindler, a 20-year resident of Sierra Madre, is now an associate of John and Janet Curtis whose real estate operation is known as the Sierra Madre Real Estate. He will function under the Arcadia Board of Realtors.

Mr. Schindler and his charming wife, Nina, reside at 703 Manzanita. He was formerly with Tyner Realty in Pasadena. They are very happy he'll be working in Sierra Madre, not only because of the convenience of being so close to work, but also being able to work in his home town, and with a couple as outstanding as the Curtis.

Mr. Curtis, in reference to his new associate, said: "I am very happy to have Don with us as we undertake to offer the best possible service in the Sierra Madre area, in buying and selling of homes and income properties."

Rainfall Exceeds Past Six Years

Sierra Madre rainfall to date exceeds the entire rainfall for the past year by nearly 1 1/2 inches. Our rainfall accounting dates from October 1 to September 30, and with five months still to go, our rainfall to date totals 28.44 inches, as compared to 26.78 inches for the entire year.

The last day of rain for the 1966-67 season was on May 12 when that week 0.35 inches fell, and then there was no more rain until the middle of October.

This year now stands to accumulate the record rainfall for the past six years, and should accumulate considerable credit for the water department and will be like money in the bank for the City of Sierra Madre.

Weather experts advise that we should not be surprised to reach the 30.0 inch mark for the year come October 1.

Barden at 355-3042. Take the time to donate, please! There is a minimum need of 150 donations. In a town of this size it may not seem hard to get 150 donations, but last year proved that statement false. The volunteers had to really search out donors to come to their aid.

Not all who come to donate can be accepted, for various reasons. So the more that come the more chance there is of the quota being filled. Let's not let this drive down there only one thing they ask for and nothing else can take the place of that life-giving fluid.

Hastings Car Wash

We have changed the color of our pumps, but we have not changed our smile, our service or ownership. Hans Rossen, with many years of experience, has come to the conclusion that Atlantic-Richfield products have more to offer his customers, and hence, via a long thought-out decision, now gives the best available.

So that all may have the opportunity of getting his car washed absolutely free, Mr. Rossen has now made it possible that all major oil company credit cards will be accepted.

Hastings Car Wash has long been the happy meeting place of many motorists who are in need of gasoline, car wash and polish. Located at 3393 E. Foothill Blvd. in Pasadena, the service is superb and as has been stated by many, "It's the best wash and polish in town."

SPRING AHEAD

Spring ahead in the spring, fall back in the fall, is the rule concerning Daylight Savings Time that they have tried to teach us during the past few years. With this in mind, all of us must set our clocks ahead one hour at 2 a.m. Sunday morning, April 30.

By state law we will continue this time for the next six months and then on Sunday, October 29 we return to normal.

Should you anticipate rail, bus or air travel better check with the timetables so you will not be at the station one hour ahead of time, or of course this would be far better than being one hour late.

Annual Camporee Awards

Patrols in the Boy Scout units in the East Pasadena Area of the Rose Bowl District received their awards during the closing ceremony of the Annual District Camporee which took place last Saturday and Sunday at Brookside Park. Among the awards to our local Scouting units were the following:

Participating Ribbon and Base Camp Awards to the Beaver Patrol of Troop 381. Standard Ribbons and Base Camp Awards to the Flaming Arrow and the Rattlesnake Patrols of Troop 381 and the Red Fox Patrol of Troop 372.

Proficiency Ribbons and Base Camp Awards to the Magnificent Mustang, the Golden Eagle, and the Black Panther Patrols of Troop 372, the Bat Patrol of Troop 371, and the Rattlesnake and Wolf Patrols of Troop 382. Efficiency Ribbons and Trailwise Camp Awards to

New 'R-C' Model Shop To Open Doors May 1st

Sierra Madre's newest business will open its doors on Monday, May 1, when John (Joe) Barboza will present to Sierra Madreans his new "R-C" Model Shop, stocked with radio-controlled airplanes and ships.

Joe Barboza has long been a resident of Sierra Madre and of late would be identified as an officer of the Sierra Madre active police force before his resignation last March.

The new shop will be located at 14 N. Baldwin in the building formerly occupied by interior decorators and will specialize in "R-C" models, as well as regular plastic and wood models by Revell, Aurora and Monogram. A complete line of hobby parts and accessories will be available as well as small train sections.

Joe, especially invites you to his opening and gives notice to all hobbyists, clubs and organizations, that although space will not permit him to carry merchandise in great quantities, he will be more than happy to secure their orders for them by the time they are needed. Also for those who may have a specialized hobby, he will confer with them and find the articles that they may need to pursue their hobbies.

From May 1 until closing on Friday evening at 9, a free gift will be given all who visit his store. Daily open hours will be from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Swimming Pool Variance Again Granted By Planners

At the meeting of the Sierra Madre Planning Commission last Thursday night, the body, on a split decision, granted the variances sought by Donald L. Konikler, for property at 20 W. Grand View.

The variance granted the right to construct a pool in the front yard with a setback of nine feet, to permit erection of a six foot fence in the front yard and permit in encroachment into the required 15 foot yard separation.

The pool, fence and their locations have been on the agenda of the Planning Commission and City Council on and off for the past several months after the pool was erected following the granting of a permit by the city.

The applicant, through his attorney presented slides, maps, and letters backing up his claims. A protest was again lodged by the Bradley, owners of the adjacent property. They were represented by an attorney, Noren Eaton.

The findings of the commission were almost identical with those given the last time this item was before them and their decision the same. Last time the decision was overturned, on appeal, by the City Council and the pool was ordered removed.

Second Call For Highlander Beauty Pageant

Second call has been made by the "Burke Boys" for eligible entries in their forthcoming "Beauty Pageant" that will be held at the Highlander Liquor Store on May 19 and 20.

All unmarried girls between the ages of 17 and 24 are eligible to participate for the three outstanding prizes that will be given, and the coveted title of "Miss Highlander, '67."

If you are eligible and have not at this time made application for entrance, hurry down to the Highlander Liquor Store, where application will be given you, the list of judges and the prizes explained. May 19-20 is the date of the choosing.

Directly after the approval of the warrants, Mayor Parks called the Council into personnel session for the purpose of holding a caucus to select the Mayor for the coming year.

Returning to the Council Chambers after a deliberation of 47 minutes, Mayor Parks announced that they had selected a new mayor, but before the announcement wished to thank all of those who gave him their support and help during his administration, for which he received a rousing hand from the audience.

Councilman Sorensen then made the nomination of Richard T. King as Mayor and Edmund Wagner as Mayor Pro Tem. This action was seconded by Mayor Parks and the vote was 4 to 0, with Councilwoman Maddox abstaining from the voting.

Mayor King then took his place at the head of the City and County Sirens Combine For Friday Test

Civil defense sirens of the combined Los Angeles City and Los Angeles County warning systems will be sounded without the steady wail according to the new warning signal in the monthly test tomorrow (Friday, April 28) at 10 a.m., Sheriff Peter J. Pitchess announced.

The test will last for one minute only, and will consist of the undulating tone alone, which is consistent with the new sound pattern used in the event of an actual enemy attack. The warning of an actual attack would be a three to five-minute sounding of the undulating tone only, added Pitchess.

Council and called upon the members to stress more unity in the year ahead; this too was given a rousing hand clap by those in attendance.

Into Business

First action of the new Mayor and his council was the passage of Ordinance 765 which was the creation of a Fire Department and setting forth a new ordinance for the Volunteer Fire Department. Ordinance 765 relating to upgrading the fees and licenses of the city was held over for a report from the Ad Hoc Committee, as was Ordinance 786 held over for more discussion. This latter ordinance deals with purchase of services and equipment and sale of surplus equipment. Ordinance 787, establishing a zoning board to assist the Planning Commission was given minor changes and placed on its first reading.

City Attorney Martin then brought the Council up to date on lawsuits, both pending and completed, naming five suits, with the first two having been won by the City, but one for over $12,000, another for $900,000, and a smaller one in the area of $2,500 were still in the process of the courts. Martin gave a very good chance that these would be won and settled much in favor of the city.

Held Over

Ten items of a crowded agenda were held over for future meetings, but the Art Fair scheduled for May 20-21 and the signs for the Nature Friends Spring Picnic for May 21 and June 25 was given approval.

Sewer Districts

Sewer Districts No. 88, Grand View and Laurel west of Mountain Trail and Merrill, District No. 90, Manzanita, westerly to Sunny-side were given adopted resolutions and set for hearing May 23. A petition for District 91, Sierra Meadow Drive was received by the Council and initiated.

Council spent considerable time discussing ways of trying to permit annexation of a two block area into one of the new assessment districts when it was thought a majority of the residents in that area would petition for sewers.

The Council adjourned at 12:35 for a personnel session Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. for decision of many important items to be cleared before May 1.

MINUTES AFTER BEING PRESENTED with the perpetual Trail Race Trophy, grasped firmly in his left hand, Frederick Veler of Pasadena is presented a back pack rack from John Holcombe of the famed Search and Rescue Team. Veler made the time of 60.22. His name will be entered on the trophy directly below Tracy Smith, last year's winner in a time of 56.58. Time was taken by AAU timers.

Marine Private Larry Lutzow In Da Nang, Vietnam

Marine Private First Class Larry Lutzow, son of Mrs. Pearl C. Lutzow of 162 Santa Anita Court, Sierra Madre, participated in "Operation Lafayette" south of Da Nang, Vietnam, as a member of the First Battalion, First Marine Regiment.

His unit is part of the First Marine Division in Vietnam. "Operation Lafayette" was a search and destroy mission conducted by the First Marine Division.

Besides this, Marines of his unit provide the people with medical aid, teach them to help themselves through better sanitation and health programs, and offer other projects designed to raise the living standards of the Vietnamese, both socially and economically.

School Candidates Speak Here

All six candidates for the two seats open on the Pasadena Board of Education this week accepted the Sierra Madre Republicans' invitation to speak before this city's voters. This meeting, arranged as a public service by the local Republican group, will be held Friday, May 5 at the Sierra Mesa School Cafeteria, 8 p.m. All Sierra Madre voters, regardless of party affiliation, are urged to attend and to meet the candidates in this non-partisan election. Each candidate will be given a limited period to present his program and policies. Written questions from the audience will be answered. Sierra Madre Republicans' able vice president, programs, Mr. Edward Murphy, will act as moderator.

Voters have until May 16 to decide upon their choice. This meeting will be the only opportunity to see and hear all six candidates simultaneously and locally.

Opening Day For Baseball All Set For Sat., April 29

With the signing of the baseball proclamation by Mayor Frank Parks, April 29 has been named the official opening day of the 1967 Little League and Pony-Colt baseball season.

The ceremonies, to which the public is cordially invited, will get underway at Heasley Field at 10 a.m., with the presentation of the colors by boys of Cub Scout Pack No. 330 and the national anthem. The invocation will be given by Father Thomas O'Malley of St. Rita's Church.

Mayor Frank Parks will read the baseball proclamation and master of ceremonies, Darwin Dennis, City Administrator, will give a welcoming address. R. Robert Evans will then award the Sierra Madre News perpetual trophies to the championship teams of the 1966 season. Following the trophy presentation, the Little League, Pony-Colt, Minor and Pee Wee Leagues will be introduced, along with their managers, coaches, sponsors and team mothers. Next on the program, the names of the boys winning the Booster ticket sale prizes will be announced by Jane

Search and Rescue Week is over. The Fashion Show, Mt. Wilson Trail races, and the well attended Rescue demonstration are things of the past. And the tired mountain rescue men, who spent a tremendous amount of hours to make each event a success can now relax, by climbing glaciers, combing bushy slopes and criss crossing the vast desert reaches to aid human beings in trouble. It's easier.

Time vaulted the years last Saturday morning when some 35 cross country runners took off from Kersting Square on the rugged Mt. Wilson Trail race. A major attraction during the years, 1908 to 1912, the race was revived in the 30's and again in 1965 when members of the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Team included the event as a part of their fund drive program.

Kersting Square, named after an early day banker, came alive long before the races. The music of a band, a flag raising ceremony, A.A.U. timers and rescue men scurrying about with last minute details. And the old thrill was still there as the runners jogged up Baldwin on their young, strong legs. With perhaps a bit of envy, our hearts went with them. Tangled clouds topped the peaks, and the air was cool and inviting.

Masonic Temple Reconstruction

Work on the repairing of the Masonic Temple damaged by fire two weeks ago, was started on Tuesday by R. W. Cook Construction Company, our well-known local contractor.

In order that the building will be exactly as it was before the accident, special-made doors will delay the finish of the work slightly. In three weeks the Temple will be as good as new, so says Earl Knowles, "kibitzer" of the construction.

Senior Citizens Meet Again

Following an interim of two weeks, Senior Citizens were happy to meet again on Saturday in their beloved, but dilapidated Park House. Potted azaleas, loaned by Mr. and Mrs. Roland Ridgeway, gave the tables and rooms an atmosphere of spring.

Mrs. Dorothy Crouchley, returning home from a Caribbean Cruise was welcomed back and resumed her secretarial duties. Members are looking forward to her resume of her delightful trip.

Mrs. Abby Alexander is on the sick list and was remembered with a card by the sunshine chairman, Lucile Pickett.

Fire Call Saturday

The Sierra Madre Volunteer Fire Department was called into action at 3:01 Saturday afternoon, April 22, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Licher, 59 N. Sunnyside.

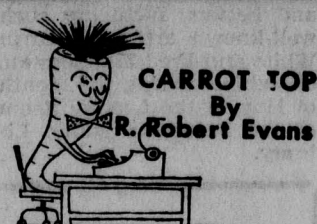

Crown Truck No. 4, arrived three and one half minutes after the alarm to find a floor furnace in the home on fire. Nineteen men answered the alarm; the fire was extinguished with damage, if any, contained to the furnace. Proper smoke ejectors were placed by the men.

First Assistant Fire Chief John Goodall was in charge of the crew and issued the following warning to all Sierra Madre citizens:

"Should you find it necessary to activate a floor furnace that has been inactive for an extended length of time, please raise the grate covering the furnace and inspect for possible dust accumulation or paper that may have fallen on top of the furnace." Further he advised, "Call your fire department immediately, but do not throw anything on the fire such as flour or dusting materials which may enhance the chances of further assisting the fire to make headway." He concluded his warning with, "Where a gas fire is evident you may use water, or dry baking soda, but electrical fires should go untouched until your department arrives."

The truck and crew were in action 19 minutes. At 9:43 p.m. Monday evening, 21 volunteers, under the command of Chief Charles Brown, answered a false alarm turned in for 321 W. Highland.

"Out of the mouth of babes," this story comes from a famous Pasadena surgeon who had a small daughter who always introduced herself, when asked her identity, as "Doctor Jones' daughter."

One day her mother decided to correct her firmly about it on the grounds that it sounded too snobbish. "After this," said the mother, "just refer to yourself as Mary Jones."

Several days later, a colleague of the physician leaned over and asked, "Aren't you Doctor Jones' little girl?"

"I always thought I was," answered the little girl. "But Mother says not." Now you see, children are sometimes that way about things. Take, for instance, I remember back in Kansas when a Mrs. Gonzales answered her telephone and heard a small voice ask:

"How do you get out of a snowsuit?" Taken aback, Mrs. Gonzales said: "Who is this? I think you have the wrong number. What number are you calling?" The small voice replied: "My name is Bobby and I don't know what number I'm calling. How do you get out of a snowsuit?"

Thereafter, the conversation between Bobby and Mrs. Gonzales went something like this:

She: "Where do you live, Bobby?" He: "I don't know."

She: "Do you know the name of the street?" He: "No."

She: "Do you live in Hometown?" He: "I don't know. Where do you live?" He: "I live in Hometown. Is that where you live?" He: "I don't know."

She: "How old are you?" He: "I'm not sure, two, I think."

She: "Do you know how to read?" He: "No."

She: "Not even numbers?" He: "No, I'm not in school yet."

She: "Where is your mother?" He: "She had to go out. My sister was here, but she went somewhere. She said when I came in I should watch TV until she got back."

She: "Well, then, why don't you do that? Just leave your snowsuit on and watch TV until your sister gets back." He: "I can't. I have to go to the bathroom real bad."

She: "Oh, well, do you know any of the neighbors?" He: "Yes, I know the lady across the street."

She: "Good, Go over there and ask her to help you." He: "I did. She isn't home."

She: "How about the lady next door?" He: "I don't know her."

She: "Oh, that doesn't matter. Just go up on the porch and knock on the door. I'm sure she'll be glad to help you." He: "Can't you come over here?"

She: "No, because I don't know where you live. Go on next door." He: "I'm scared."

She: "There is nothing to be afraid of. All you have to do is go over and knock on the door, and..." He: "Never mind, lady, it's too late."

And you and I think we have troubles... Oh, boy!

Swim Boosters Have Free Offer

Special competitive swim training classes and a car wash were the big items discussed at the Sierra Madre Swim Club Boosters Board of Directors meeting on April 18.

The car wash, to be handled by the youngsters in the swim program, will raise money for the purchase of uniform swim suits and insignia for the suits and warm-up shirts. The date of this event will soon be published and team members will sell tickets in the downtown area.

Residents are urged to watch for the date to be posted.

Swim training classes to be held on Saturdays prior to the actual opening of the swim season will provide youngsters with the opportunity to learn and perfect individual strokes.

The cost for the Saturday lessons is being borne by the Swim Club Boosters. Look for the free offer next week.

May Luncheon

The Shakespeare Department of the Shakespeare Club of Pasadena will hold its annual May luncheon at the Woman's City Club, 160 N. Oakland. Miss Margaret E. Hookway, director. The meeting will be Friday, May 5, at 12 noon.

Do you realize that there are literally thousands of dollars that are probably going a-wastin'? I refer to all of the wild and wonderful sweepstake prizes that are offered in as many ways, shapes, and forms as your imagination can conjure up.

Cereal boxes are a sure fire way of appealing to your basic curiosity. The manufacturer promises that there will be hundreds of winners. Nothing to buy. Just send a self addressed envelope to find out the winners' names. This tends to bankrupt the post office department because they lose money on every letter that is posted.

Oh well, if you win you can always chip in a little extra to pay for the deficit. Trouble is you never do — matter of fact I don't know anyone that has ever won anything except a race horse. That took dozens of sacks of tobacco. Understand they haven't had moths for years cause they had to use the tobacco up some way. Don't really know is they came out ahead on that deal or not. That horse was one big eater.

Another gimmick that I think is pretty sneaky are those little things you get in the mail with holes cut out. All you have to do is dash down to the grocery or the drug store and go thru their displays matching holes. I always feel so silly and furtive about the whole thing as the clerks stand around eyeing you disdainfully wondering if you're going to knock the whole thing over. We're told that someone will win — maybe you . . . But who does?

Of course I'm pouting. If all the prizes were laid end to end for one year I'll venture to say there would probably be a prize for every family in the United States but none come to my door. I've been sitting with a can of Folgers Coffee at my back door for years and not even the "door bell ringer" has rung my buzzer. Guess I'm just a born loser!

Talked to Mrs. Francis Howell, president of the Villa Guild of Rosemary Cottage. She asked me to express her appreciation to all of the people that worked so diligently to make their recent dinner dance such a huge success as well as to all of the people who supported the function. Mrs. Kenneth Christianson, chairman of the party, joined her in this sentiment.

It was a wonderful and original party and the only sad note of the whole affair is the fact that they were forced to turn away late reservations because of lack of space.

The money earned will be turned over to Rosemary Cottage some time in the future to use as they see fit.

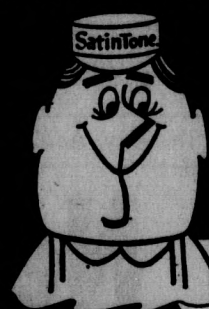

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Schwartz were pleasantly surprised recently by a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hill, formerly of Claremea Lane. They are now living in Cardiff. Their daughter Frances is an attorney affiliated with MGM. She is living at Malibu Beach.

Had a nice visit with Naomi Kern the other evening catching up on the latest news with Joe and the children. Their latest trip was with Dodie and Joe Kirwan for a long weekend in Las Vegas. Asked her if they won and got an emphatic NO, but the trip was fun!

Camp Fire Girls Will Attend

The Oda Kanya Lo Lua Ci girls were among the participants at a Folk Dance Festival sponsored by the Los Angeles Department of Parks and Recreation. This festival was held in the Arcadia Park on April 15. The Sierra Mesa fifth grade girls joined with other groups from the San Gabriel Valley to learn folk dances from many countries. Dodging occasional raindrops were: Susan Bishop, Lynn Chivers, Mary Corp, Laura Decker, Sarah Foote, Dyna Jansen, Denise Lehner, Mary Ann Murphy and Vickie Young. Holding umbrellas and watching were their guardian and assistant, Mrs. Gordon Bishop and Mrs. Paul Foote.

The Bailey Canyon project had a helping hand last Saturday, April 15, from the fourth grade Camp Fire Girls, Sierra Mesa. The girls planted various shrubs and little oak trees, also wild flower seeds, which the city provided. Mrs. Robert Englert, guardian, and Mrs. Robert Hansen, assistant, helped supervise the girls. This group, Ta Wa Si Tan Da, also has had an Horizon Club member, Debbie Cooper, as a junior assistant this year. Willing workers were: Nancy Englert, Carol Ann Snow, Caryn Fraser, Wendy Soderblom, Lori Johnson, Debbie and Diane Albright, Jean Matakovich, Amanda Smith, Sheri McElwin, Kerry Treater, Dana Devrick and Christina Hansen.

Second grade Blue Birds from Sierra Madre (the morning session group) now under the leadership of Mrs. William Talley had the special treat of going to the Pasadena Playhouse for the Children's Theater presentation of "Rip Van Winkle." The play had a most appreciative audience in Nina Talley, Tina Petre Janet Van de Lindt, Kathy Shimizu, Susan Woodford and Carol Mize.

Arboretum Has 'Orchid Cactus' In One-Day Show

Epiphyllum cactus blossoms, spectacular in color, spectacular in size, will be the feature attraction of a one-day show to be held this Sunday, May 7, at the Los Angeles State and County Arboretum, 301 N. Baldwin Ave., Arcadia.

The blossoms belong to the genus Epiphyllum, familiarly known as the "Orchid Cactus." Hybridization has produced blossoms up to 14 inches in diameter and in a range of colors usually referred to as a "riot."

The display at the Arboretum will represent the Eighth Annual Epiphyllum Show sponsored by the Epiphyllum Society of America. In addition to the visual treat, the Society will provide visitors with information on the culture and care of plants.

Hours for the event are from noon to 5:30 p.m. Admission is free.

You and Your Neighbor

by LYNNE RICHARDSON

Mary Ruggles, daughter of Jules and Jean Ruggles of 201 Carolwood Dr., took her First Communion at St. Rita's on Saturday morning, April 22. The fun part of the whole event came when the entire family went out to celebrate at a local restaurant. There was mother, father, brothers and sisters: Jay, Vickie, Chris, Joan, Mark, Tom and Laurie Ann. Needless to say the restaurant was in a bit of an upheaval! They made the weekend a real family affair, and also went to Alverno's fiesta and dinner that Sunday. That's quite an invasion!

Rosa Salazar reports that her family is all well and fine. She told me of some news that happened March 20 though. Mr. and Mrs. Walter K. Wilson of 3299 Del Vine were expecting a baby, but gave birth to twins instead! They were born in the St. Luke's Hospital, at 9:18 and 9:25 a.m. Gregory Scott and Matthew David already have a little 2½ year old brother, Marc, to welcome them.

Ron Griffin and his wife, Barbara, enjoyed a weekend up at Crestline. It was Patrick's first trip to the snow. The Griffins are expecting a baby in the first part of June, so hope to have more good news for us then.

Annual Iris Show At Arboretum

New varieties of iris and a special seedling division will be the principal attractions at the 25th annual Iris Show next weekend, April 29 and 30, at the Los Angeles State and County Arboretum in Arcadia.

An additional feature will be a display of California Native Iris prepared by Dr. Lee Lenz, director of Rancho Santa Ana Botanic Gardens. The show, sponsored by the Southern California Iris Society, is open to the public from 1 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. Saturday, and from 9 a.m. Sunday. Admission is free.

Personals are $125 and can be placed in an envelope and placed under the door . . . no name needed. No charges accepted.

Sidewalk Cafe Added Feature:

Annual Outdoor Art Fair To Be Held May 20 - 21

Friends of the Sierra Madre Library will sponsor their annual Outdoor Art Fair for the fifth consecutive year. They will hold the event at Sierra Madre Memorial Park on Saturday and Sunday, May 20-21.

The Art Fair will have paintings, drawings, prints, sculpture, ceramics, jewelry, weaving, creative stitchery and a variety of other art media for sale and exhibit.

Demonstrations will include Raku firing, wheel throwing, slab building techniques with clay, Sumi painting, weaving and metal work. Easels will again be available for children to demonstrate their own techniques.

Mrs. Charlotte Olt is arranging the "Hat and Banners" Parade this year. All children who would like to participate will meet Saturday, May 6, and Saturday, May 13, to make hats and banners at the Creative Arts Adobe, 37 E. Montecito, from 9 a.m. to noon. Strolling musicians add an even more festive atmosphere to the festivities.

The parade will take place on Saturday, May 20, through the center of Sierra Madre. Police will provide — Please turn to Page 6

WE, the Pharmacists of the United States

We, the Pharmacists of the United States wish to take this opportunity to THANK YOU — our friends — THE PUBLIC — for letting us fill one billion prescriptions (1,000,000,000) for you during the year 1966.

The cost to you? A little over three billion dollars. The average price? $3.26 per prescription and each man, woman and child had about five prescriptions filled for them . . . and each family of four spent about sixty dollars ($60.00) per family for prescriptions.

Many of these prescriptions prevented medical conditions from becoming worse. Some of them even prevented disease conditions from existing at all! Some of these prescriptions allowed elderly people to continue in reasonably good health for extended periods, and some of them alleviated pain and suffering of folks seriously ill. Some of these prescriptions helped those with mental problems to enjoy peace of mind. Some of these prescriptions allowed the breadwinner of the family to continue working even when his condition might have warranted a long illness at home, or a hospital stay.

We, at Hartmans feel grateful that a system of health needs products is available in this country due to the great efforts of the pharmaceutical industry and the health professions.

For all of these we again say "THANK YOU."

Membership Drive Now On For FCCA

An announcement to continue the annual membership drive for Foothill Community Concert Association was made this week by Association President Robert Chess of Monrovia.

"There is still time to purchase the $7.50 adult or $3.50 student tickets which enable the holder to attend the scheduled concerts in the 1967-68 series," Chess said.

Featured in the new series will be the "Richard Hayman and the Manhattan Pops Orchestra," the popular
"Don Romeros," classical guitarists, and Simon Estes, renowned bass baritone.

The concerts are presented through the Foothill Community Concert Association on a non-profit basis in which the membership ticket holder may attend the local concerts, as well as concerts available to him on an extensive reciprocity list. The ticket is a real bargain and can mean as many as 70 concerts for those wishing to attend.

The Foothill concerts are held in the Monrovia High School auditorium where acoustics are the finest in the area and where parking

School Week

Madre Elementary schools.
Under the direction of Principal Miss Betty Newton,
the pupils of the Sierra Mesa School furnished a splendid art display; and also the Continuation High School under the leadership of Principal Lillian Hagen furnished a wonderful assortment of posters which will be on display in several business places this week.

Mr. Phillip Mitchell, sixth grade teacher of Sierra Madre Elementary School was presented with Sierra Madre's Teacher of the Year Award; the presentation being made by Mrs. Juliana Hawks, principal of Sierra Madre Elementary School, who told of Mr. Mitchell's outstanding record as a teacher, and also as a civic minded citizen.

The speaker of the evening, introduced by Worshipful Master John C. Bowman, was Mr. Willard Stone, attorney of Pasadena, and Past Master of Mount Wilson Lodge; his short, but powerful address was heartily received and appreciated.

Public School's Week
chairman, Earl T. Knowles urges all interested citizens to visit the Sierra Madre schools whenever possible.
Continuation High School will have visiting hours 7:30 to 9 p.m. on Thursday, April 27.

Minnie Stinman Passes Away

Miss Minnie Ella Stinman passed away suddenly in her home on April 20, just about one month after her ninetieth birthday. She resided at 257 W. Laurel Ave. in Sierra Madre, where she has been a resident for 40 years.

Born and raised in Iowa, she was trained and schooled as a teacher and practical nurse. After she came to California, she taught privately to students who needed special help and training. They ranged from elementary to post high school age.

Survivors to Miss Stinman include: her sister Mrs. Josie Wise of Iowa, niece Mrs.
Marjorie O. Peterson of Sierra Madre, niece Mrs. Twila Crawford of Santa Fe, New Mexico, nephew Gordon W.
Stinman of Costa Mesa and other nieces and nephews in the east.

Funeral services were held Monday, April 24, at 11 a.m.
at the Ripple Mortuary Chapel. Charles Mitchell presided over the program.
Interment is at the Live Oak Cemetery in Monrovia.
Ripple Mortuary made the arrangements.

Tour chairman Minette Ring announced that the three day Las Vegas trip date had been changed to May 15 and that the Death Valley tour will leave on Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock from Santa Anita Park.

Next Saturday the organization will celebrate their fifth anniversary with a birthday party and kitchen shower. Included in this celebration will be the following April birthday members: Mrs. Flora Anderson,
Mrs. Edna Murphy, Mrs.
Maxine Miller, Rol and Ridgeway, Mr. and Mrs.
Charles Ring and Adelbert
Snow.

The afternoon program consisted of community singing led by Mr. Ridgeway, with Vivien Singleton at the piano. The singing of
"Happy Birthday" honored
Mrs. Flora Anderson. Card games rounded up a full afternoon with many attending the Garden Club's Flower Show at the Congregational Church.

Want to move up to a better home?

It's easier to do now. Home loan money is available again.

With lots of San Gabriel Valley families last year, the hope of moving up to a bigger or better house never got past the talking stage. Tight money was why.

After all, it takes financing to trade up.
And somebody else needs it to buy your present home. But mostly the money wasn't to be had.

So people decided to stay put for the time being. In your own particular area, and all up and down the Valley.

But early this year, loan money started flowing again. Today buyers are looking—and buying. Moving vans are moving again.

If you want to make a change, it's a whole lot simpler now. That's true if you need more space. And just as true if the kids are grown and you want a place that doesn't tie you down so much.

The sooner you act, the better.
Higher building costs are adding about 5% a year to prices of new homes. By 1971, a $20,000 house could cost you $24,000.
Huge population increases are hiking up the value of land, too. San Gabriel Valley cities grew an average of over 100% from 1950 to 1966.

There still are plenty of houses to choose from. And prices are generally considered reasonable. But if, as many authorities believe, a new buying boom is starting, the selection will go down.

The facts certainly suggest that the longer you wait, the more it will cost you.
So why not see what your house is worth, and what's on the market in the neighborhood you like?

Your San Gabriel Valley Realtor can help you. He knows the area. He has the answers to your questions about financing, taxes and local schools. Why not put him to work for you now?

barricades for the cross streets during this colorful event. All children are welcome to participate!
Out-of-town artists are invited to participate along with the local artists. Invitations change each year to provide variety. Approximately 125 artists are expected to display their work. A sidewalk cafe will be an added feature. Tables will be placed on the mall at the east entrance of the park by the new refreshment booth. Fair visitors can relax and enjoy refreshments and meet friends for a tour of the Fair.

Four years ago the businessmen in town contributed for the first set of plywood panels for displaying paintings and supports or the displays. Art Fair has made a profit every year, and has contributed to the community room and has assisted in furnishing more display equipment.

James Vernon Jr. Passes Away

Mr. James M. Vernon, Jr., of 785 Skyland Drive, passed away suddenly on April 22, in Sierra Madre Hospital, at the age of 40.
Originally from Texas, veteran of World War II and the Korean War, he was a moulder at Sierra Engineering Company. For 27 years he lived in California and 25 of them in Sierra Madre.
Mrs. Bonnie L. Vernon of Sierra Madre, his mother; Joe E. Vernon of Monrovia, his brother, and Jay W. Vernon of Visalia, his brother, are the survivors.
Funeral services were held in the Ripple Mortuary Chapel by Reverend David Howell, Tuesday, April 25, at 2 p.m.
Interment was at the Live Oak Cemetery. Ripple Mortuary was in charge of the arrangements.

Rogation Sunday At Faith Lutheran

Rogation or Prayer Sunday will be observed in the 10:30 Daylight Saving Time Sunday morning worship service at Faith Lutheran Church, 845 Hastings Ranch Drive. Giving Oneself to Prayer" will be the pulpit theme of the Rev. Armin W. Hesse.
During the 9:15 Sunday school hour, the young people of the Waltham League who have been attending the "Successful Teaching" training course will serve as the instructors in the Sunday school classes. The Bible departments will convene in the sanctuary to conclude the discussion on "The Liturgies and Festivals of the Church Year" led by the pastor.
With the weather permitting, members will leave the church at 1:15 on Sunday afternoon to complete the religious survey and census of the Upper Hastings Ranch area. The object of this survey, conducted by the congregation's Evangelism Department, is to extend primarily to the unchurched people of the community the services of the church, including the enlistment of young people in a constructive program of Christian education, fellowship and recreation.
At 5:30 on Sunday evening, the members of the Mr. and Mrs. Club will gather for a pizza supper in the parish hall, while the young people of the Waltham League will convene at the Donald Hingst home for their pizza supper and election of officers.
On Monday night at 7:30, Psychologist Norman Miller will conclude his monthly lecture-discussion series on "Christian Parent-Child Relations." Other events scheduled for the week: Junior Choir and Sunday school staff on Tuesday at 7:30; Midweek Bible Hour featuring "The History of the New Testament" on Wednesday evening at 7:30, followed by meetings of the board of Christian Education and Trustees at 8:30; Adult Church - Membership Study Class and Senior Choir on Thursday at 8; and meeting of the College Age Group in Alhambra on Friday night at 8.

S.E. Auxiliary Holds Annual Dinner - Dance

The "Wings of Spring" flutter as the Structural Engineers Auxiliary of Southern California look forward to one of their most gala affairs, the annual spring dinner-dance. Mrs. Richard Hegle of Huntington Beach, chairman, announces it will be held in the Beverly Hills Hotel on Saturday, May 13. In charge of decorations is Mrs. Cyndee M. Biddison of San Marino and assisting her are Mmes. Robert D. Cousineau and Melvin V. Robstock Jr. Table decorations for the event will be keyed to the theme, with centerpieces of doves in flight over an arrangement of dogwood and ferns.
Mrs. Lewis K. Osborn, president, states the elegant invitations designed by auxiliary member Mrs. Richard Hegle were mailed to one thousand Southern California Structural Engineers and their wives.
The evening will begin with a cocktail hour at 7:30, dinner at 8:30 and continue with dancing to Carroll Wax and his orchestra.
Hostesses Mmes. Kenneth J. Woodward and Warren Burres will be greeting Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Kay and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sparling of Sierra Madre.
In addition to the spring dance, on Wednesday, May 10, the auxiliary scheduled luncheon meeting will be held at Universal City Studios. A studio tour for members and guests will depart at 10 a.m. Lunch will be at 1:30 p.m. in the Commissary and conclude with a short business meeting.

Robert Osti's Win A Trip To San Francisco

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Osti were awarded a trip to San Francisco including the flight there, a two night stay in a hotel, a tour of the city and a dinner and tour in Chintown. The trip was donated by Scott Tours of Pasadena, at the Rose Float Association dance, April 22.
Dance chairman, Mrs. Edwin J. Cowan wishes to thank the many merchants and local citizens who helped to make the affair a success.
Election of officers for the coming year will be held May 2, in the City Council Chambers at City Hall, at 8 p.m., according to General Chairman Ben McGee. Membership cards will be available at that time, at $1 each.

Congregational Sunday Sermon And Installation

Ending a series of three sermons on the words of Jesus, "Follow me," Rev. David G. Howell will direct the attention of the congregation to the words "Follow Me and I will Save You," at worship on Sunday, April 30, at Sierra Madre Congregational Church.
Rev. Howell brings out that "Nothing has been written more deeply into the message of the church for the last two thousand years than the proclamation that Jesus came into the world to seek and to save people and to give deathless life."

Grahame Jones Assists PCC's Battle of Bands

Pasadena City College Sophomore Class Council will present the Battle of the Junior College Bands May 5 at 8 p.m. in the Campus Center Lounge, according to co-chairman Thomas Wilms-hurst of Alhambra and Greg Flint of Altadena.
Eight bands will compete for a $200 top prize and a $100 second prize. There will be eight go-go dancers and both the Lounge and Student Dining Room will be used during the evening's competition which will include bands from neighboring junior colleges.
Assisting with arrangements is Grahame Jones of Sierra Madre, Sophomore Class president.
Proceeds will go to the Sophomore Class activities fund.
The Pacific Northwest and Pacific Southwest, which are being linked together now in a historic power intertie, may some day be sharing the tremendous water surpluses of the Columbia River.

Installation of new officers for the coming year will be conducted by Rev. David G. Howell at the Women's Fellowship meeting on Tuesday, May 2, at the church. Preceded by Bible Study at 11 a.m., led by Rev. Howell, the luncheon will be followed by the ceremony to install these officers: President, Mrs. Edward Murphy; vice president, Mrs. Milton Emerson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Helen Haas; recording secretary, Mrs. Jack Pogue; membership chairman, Mrs. Maude Nelson; missionary education chairman, Mrs. James Nicholson; treasurer, Mrs. Sam Schwartz; worship chairman, Mrs. Lewis George Jr.; memory book, Mrs. Ruth Twycross; house chairman, Mrs. Melburn Stine.
Also, hospitality chairman, Mrs. John Coyle; publicity chairman, Mrs. Loren Jenkins; reading chairman, Mrs. Roy Pickett; visitation chairman, Mrs. Marjorie Green; historian, Mrs. Herbert Seifert; ways and means chairman, Mrs. Robert Hartman and Mrs. Donald Deal; junior fellowship representative, Mrs. Donald Deal; friendly service chairman, Mrs. Katherine Lemmel; choir mothers, Mrs. Robert Henderson and Mrs. Tom Edwards.

Workshop Meets, Arrange Awards

A workshop meeting is scheduled for members of Pasadena Area Panhellenic Association on Thursday, April 27, 9:30 a.m., in the home of Mrs. C. H. Koch, social chairman, Alpha Omicron Pi, Pasadena.

Hostesses for coffee will be: Mrs. Lloyd E. Donahue, Alpha Delta Pi, Pasadena; Mrs. Donald Valentine, Alpha Gamma Delta, Pasadena; Mrs. Ralph D. Dear, Alpha Omicron Pi, Pasadena. Mrs. Elwood Laine, president, Alpha Chi Omega, Arcadia, will call the session to order.

Delegates and alternates from 18 national sororities will make final arrangements for the scholarship awards and Mother-Daughter Program and Tea, May 6, at the Westminster Presbyterian Church, Morrison Hall, at Lake and Woodbury in Pasadena. Of the nine high schools represented in the scholarship program, Blair High School will be setting a tradition with its first graduating class.

High school senior girls, who plan to attend four year colleges, are invited to register with Pasadena Area Panhellenic through Mrs. Walter Gibson, scholarship chairman, Alpha Gamma Delta, Alhambra, 281-9863.

You and Your Neighbors

by LYNN RICHARDSON

Neil and Irene Smith of 454 Highland went camping up in Joshua Tree National Monument. They and their children, Cathy Ann, Rene and Patti Jo, climbed around the boulders, hiked and enjoyed their three day vacation. They hope to get out there soon again. Neil Smith has been busy with the Cam-pore at the Rose Bowl which was held for the Boy Scouts in this area. He is a Scoutmaster at the Sierra Madre Congregational Church.

Flu is relentlessly running over this city. The Thurstons, of 363 Sycamore Place, haven't escaped. Tom and his young daughter Donalee, are just recovering from it. Having two members of their family sick has been hard on wife, Shirley. She's glad to see they are recovering though and things are getting back to their normal pace.

Let's stamp out VW-napping! On April 19, my red VW, "Schnecke" (means snail in German) was picked up and carried down the block by three ruthless men whose names I won't mention (initials are: R.R.E., B.H., and G.M.). Remember, gentlemen, "Hell haveth no fury like a woman with a red VW!"

Mr. and Mrs. William Underwood of 770 Canyon Crest drove up to Santa Paula for the weekend of April 8. They went up to visit Mr. and Mrs. "Jim" Dewey, Mrs. Underwood's brother-in-law and former residents of Sierra Madre. Mr. Dewey retired from the Federal Aeronautics Agency of the International Airport in Los Angeles, where he was supervisor. Thirty students of the Dewey Flying School, along with their spouses, helped the Deweys celebrate. They were all connected with the old Alhambra Airport, where the Dewey School originated. The Underwoods were entertained on Saturday night by Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Nicholson of Salomar Beach, Ventura.

John Englert Jr. left for Korea on April 17. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Englert Sr. of 131 Holdman Ave. He is serving in the Army with the Special Forces.

This spring rain has certainly upset a lot of plans. Remember St. Rita's Fashion Show? Well, it wasn't held in the garden, but put indoors at the Charles Bogg's home. The affair was, nevertheless, a financial and fashionable success. Any woman would brave the rain to see those beautiful clothes of Gullett and Harris.

Carmen and James Walters said they have been fighting flu at their house. The baby of the family, Jon, was really under the weather. But everyone is getting back to normal. Jay is practicing in Little League, while older brother James is out for Pony League this year.

Mrs. Ruth Beebe says she gets much more rest now than she did when she lived at 21 W. Grand View. Her present place is smaller but less work. The only thing she misses is her beautiful garden, but she solved that. Now there's a little garden in the back of her apartment and she can resume her green thumb talents.

Jay, Karin and son Jay Aguilar went skiing up at Squaw Valley for three days. They had a very good time and enjoyed the good snow that this weather's been bringing. Chris Milligan, Karin Aguilar's sister-in-law from Vancouver, Canada, is planning to come down in June for a week. She's in for a real treat, for they plan to show her the town. One of the musts will be Disneyland, of course!

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Cut costs? Here's an idea. According to news stories Cal State L.A. deems it necessary to reject 1,550 students due to Gov. Reagan's budget cut. If the authorities at Cal State L.A. think this is necessary, they cannot see beyond their noses.

I am an instructor at the California State Polytechnic College, San Luis Obispo, and will take the latter school as an example of how the budget cut can be affected without loss in efficiency of a state college. In fact, before I get through I will show how much more than 20 per cent of the budget cut could be absorbed by Cal State L.A. without loss in efficiency.

As a beginning, the state colleges, could cut down on their administrative staff. For example, at Cal Poly, out of a total of 900 employees only 400 are actually engaged in instruction!

I imagine the same situation, only worse, holds at Cal State L.A. In the Cal Poly catalog, under administration are listed, in addition to other necessary ones, 13 positions, each of which draws from $15,000 to $20,000, and each of which employs, besides, a group of secretaries and assistants, and which positions are not essential to the education of the students. By eliminating these jobs, a considerable saving would result.

Secondly, an increase in enrollment of 10 per cent or a budget cut of 10 per cent could be absorbed by the state colleges, if each instructor would take an extra class for two out of five semesters.

If the authorities at Cal State L.A. are loath to follow the preceding suggestions, I have a much more powerful one. Since at Cal Poly, and this is very likely true also at Cal State L.A. only 15 per cent of the entering students graduate at the end of four years and an additional 15 per cent at the end of five years, 70 per cent of the entering students drop out before they finish.

The country-wide average is 50 per cent. This means that half of the entering students drop out before they finish. This is largely due to inability of a student to make the grade in the state colleges, and, if we could prevent these students from entering in the first place, we could cut the budget by 50 per cent. This can be done by raising the admission standards, or imposing stiff entrance examinations.

I have another suggestion to the state colleges on recruitment of faculty. If there should be an exodus of faculty due to the budget cut, let us take bright, young graduates students and put them into teaching positions. Most of the courses at the state colleges are only very little above that of the junior colleges anyway and do not require men with advanced degrees to do the teaching.

WHY MAKE A "FEDERAL" CASE OF IT?

The case for federally-chartered savings associations is airtight. Mutual ownership by savings members, guarantees against control by any single individual or group of stockholders. Earnings shared by members through regular dividends at a rate kept in line with safety. Conservative operational practices, under federal supervision, that must meet the test of periodic on-the-spot examinations—without advance warning. Plus, automatic insurance of accounts to $15,000 by a permanent federal agency. • Wouldn't you want your life savings to have this trustworthy protection? You be the judge. • ALL FUNDS EARN FROM THE FIRST IF RECEIVED BY THE TENTH • Address funds, or send for statement and Facts Book to:

TAKE YOUR PROBLEMS TO CHURCH THIS WEEK— millions leave them there!

HERE'S THE STEEPLE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

When Jimmy Clark crowned the tiny church with the steeple it touched my heart.

Incidentally, I admire Jimmy Clark and I am interested in everything he does. When he brushes his teeth or rides his tricycle, or climbs the sliding board at the playground I admire his concentration and his careful workmanship. And when he cuddles into his Daddy's lap at bedtime or walks hand in hand with him up the church steps on Sunday he looks like an angel.

I think you have guessed it by now, haven't you? I'm Jimmy's mother — and a doting mother at that. I think Jimmy could accomplish just about anything... doctor, lawyer, merchant; why he might be President some day.

But whatever he becomes, I want him to be a good man; strong and true of character, firm in his principles. I want him to have God as his partner. That's why I go to church every Sunday and take Jimmy. It's the best insurance I know for a happy and fulfilled life.

Mrs. Betty Ankeny of 169 Lowell is home recovering from a bout with roller skates. She broke two bones in her spinal column. It happened when she fell while roller skating. The doctor said she may be resting in bed for three months, but time will tell if they can short cut the resting period. Mrs. Ankeny is keeping in real good humor nonetheless, but she would just like to warn the rest of us to be careful.

Mrs. Clifford Neschke and Mrs. William Cracknell co-hosted a going away party for Mrs. Vicchione who is leaving the first of May for Europe. Ladies present joining in the celebration were: Mrs. John Englert, Mrs. Ralph Alfieri, Mrs. Milton Morningstar, Mrs. James Quigley, Mrs. Beluah Kallenberun, Mrs. Bouquet, Mrs. O'Sullivan, Mrs. Walter Fleming and Mrs. Olga Papec.

St. Rita's Guild has a new president, Mrs. Ralph Alfieri who recently entertained a close circle of friends with a potluck dinner. The couples later went to El Monte to a restaurant and enjoyed a delicious French cuisine. The couples were: the Neschkes, the Vicchiones, the Englers, the Cracknells and the Venegonis.

Dolly Bale, wife of Jim Bale, Sierra Madre's former Chief of Police, is going to be greatly missed at Saint Rita's Guild, where she has been such an active member. The Bales are planning to leave Sierra Madre to go to their new home in West Covina, close to where Chief Bale will be working.

Mrs. John Quigley is hosting a cocktail gathering for the sponsors of Santa Teresita Guild party which is to be held on April 29. The cocktails will precede the featured event to be held at Walnut Country Club.

Award To W. Sawicki

Seven students and two alumni of the University of Colorado School of Architecture received scholarships and awards Thursday, April 20, at the annual awards banquet of the school and the Colorado Chapter of the American Institute of Architects.

Scholarship and award was presented to Walter J. Sawicki III, fifth-year, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Sawicki Jr., of 50 N. Auburn Dr., Sierra Madre, who received the Alpha Rho Chi Medal. Sawicki resides at 1634 16th St., Greeley, Colorado.

Cindy Warden, daughter of Hugh and Veronica Warden of 309 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., danced Friday evening, April 21 at Pasadena High. She is in the Pasadena High modern dance group which put on a recital for the public. That's quite a talented group of young ladies. They're performance was very well choreographed and performed.

Twins Club Has Annual Dinner

With Mother's Day just around the corner, members of the Santa Anita Chapter Mothers of Twins Club will honor their mothers on May 2, at an annual dinner meeting to be held at the Arroyo Inn, 400 S. Arroyo Parkway in Pasadena. The evening will begin at 7 o'clock with a social half hour and dinner will be served at 7:30.

According to Mrs. John Harte, program chairman, the club will enjoy a very interesting talk titled "Sun and Shade" by Mr. Joe Littlefield, gardening expert and consultant and well-known columnist for many of the local newspapers. He will be introduced by Mrs. Nadine Mashburn.

Mothers of twins or triplets interested in club membership may contact Mrs. Clark Spoelstra at 463-7475, Mrs. Ryan Berger at 284-0769, or Mrs. Frank Pirri at EL 5-6941.

Would you believe 240 departures to Europe this summer, all escorted, all prepaid, carefree vacations, on all types of travel, economy and deluxe? American Express would! And does! . . . from April to October. But first of all, they literally take your trip in advance . . . Testing the comfort quotient of your hotels, checking menus for variety, investigating road conditions and routes so you won't get lost in the Vienna Woods. And making certain your courier knows how to guide you safely through the bikini-studded beaches of France's Cote d'Azur, through the Alpine foothills to, say . . . Monaco.

This is a fairytale principle ruled over by Prince Rainier Grimaldi and his movie-star princess, the former Grace Kelly; a pocket-sized country as sparkling clean and as full of flowers as it would be in a story book. Here palms and pines and flower beds edge the streets and villas, and . . . rows of pawn shops line the avenues that back up to the world's most famous palace of fortune, the casino at Monte Carlo.

Monte Carlo itself is a setting straight out of a Dufy water color, complete with cobalt-blue sea and sky, houses done up in sugar white or the strawberry pink that is a Provincial favorite, and flashes of vermillion and lipstick-red awnings. Gaily colored yachting flags and white or sun-red sails cut across the sea and when the sun goes down, the whole midnight-blue strip glitters with the activities of its cabarets.

The atmosphere in the casino, however, is quite, quite different from ours in Las Vegas. Here, one becomes accustomed to a brasserie din, fast-moving machines, bright lights, people of simply all walks of life, some of whom defy description; while in Monte Carlo the scene is one of solemn quiet. The decor is "early dignity" combined with "durable wealth."

There are tapestries and priceless paintings on the walls and grand crystal chandeliers hanging from ornate ceilings. All is calm and serene no swing band coming from the lounge, no mini-skirted cocktail waitresses giving away drinks, no bash and clang to confuse the mind.

There is an air of serious, deliberate planning, as though each move, each motion were laid out 2-3 days in advance. In fact, it got so slow that Rodger, my husband, could stand it no longer. Before I knew it, he was playing blackjack at one table and baccarat at another . . . simultaneously . . . with time left over to check on my activities at the roulette wheel!

Christian Science Hears Parable

The parable of the Prodigal Son will be the responsive reading in a Bible Lesson on "Everlasting Punishment," to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

References from the denominational text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following: "The design of Love is to reform the sinner."

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:
The following is an open letter to the citizens of our city:

Dear Citizens of Sierra Madre: For those of you who are reading about a Teen Center in Sierra Madre for the first time and we hope there aren't many of you left, let me bring you up to date. Several months ago an Interested Citizens Committee investigated the possibility of rehabilitating the vacant, city owned structure at 242 W. Sierra Madre Blvd. for a Teen Center. The location appealed to these citizens because of the nearness of the library, tennis courts, ice cream parlors, police protection and maximum lighting. The idea of these youngsters doing much of the rehabilitating themselves, and earning their own equipment, cannot help but appeal to every parent interested in developing responsible citizenship in their youth.

The Teenagers of Sierra Madre have their hopes high that soon they will be actively participating in the creation of their own Teen Center. All of us I'm sure remember the days of our youth, when the words "OUR basketball team, OUR football team, OUR school, and OUR town" were used with pride. Today we have a unified school system, our youngsters have no community identity. This Teen Center will be their identity, more meaningful because of the responsibilities they will assume.

The education part of this program began with the Teenagers attending and participating in the Parks and Recreation meetings and the discussions that led to the approval of this commission. They have followed closely the progress made by the City Council, and were thrilled with the support given them. These young people wrote and circulated a petition amongst themselves, and presented this to the Parks and Recreation Commission and the City Council, another step in learning how our government works. They also are getting an education in what opposition means. The teens and their supporters, however, feel confident that something that is so right for them as this center, so immediately available, so economically sound, can and will be a reality soon.

The committee has received offers for donations of labor and material already, members of our great Little League and our hard working Rose Float Association have pitched in with support and expect to actively participate. Our Civic Club ever watchful for a new opportunity to help our youth, have offered their support. Our community minded citizens are behind these kids . . . so they can say with pride that wonderful phrase "OUR TEEN CENTER IN OUR TOWN."

KAM NELSON, the former Mark Keppel High beauty, who served as Miss Rose Bowl Rodeo and Queen of the San Gabriel Valley Prep grid game last year, is currently showing her heels to female track competition while running for the Crown City spikers.

EARL BRENNER of the Pasadena Lions Club was the big winner on sweepstakes night for the Service Club Bowling League.

DIG THIS CONVERSATION... (HANKUS)... What kind of a team do you expect to have in Boston?

(DICK WILLIAMS)... We can be contenders for the first division.

(HANKUS)... What do you plan to use for pitching?

(WILLIAMS)... We have some youngsters coming up from Toronto who should make the team and give us a lot of help.

(HANKUS)... You can't really be counting on rookies to move the Red Sox up in the standings.

(WILLIAMS)... Just watch a young fellow by the name of Bill Rohr. He is a good one and could easily be the rookie of the year.

(HANKUS) always trying to get in the last word... Well, I wish you a lot of luck, but frankly I don't see how you can win without pitching.

At this point Dick Williams, transplanted Altadena and new manager of the Boston Red Sox, is quite a prophet. Rohr already has two wins including a one-hitter against the Yankees.

MANY OF THE SOUTHLAND'S leading cindersmen will be competing this weekend in the ninth annual Mt. SAC Relays.

TOMMY PROTHRO picked up a dandy transfer in Paul Derfingher, a hardrunning fullback from San Diego Mesa. Gary Beban will have a fine supporting cast at Bruinville including 18 lettermen, so don't be too hasty in handing the Rose Bowl to USC.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA SWIM championship on the Jaycee level will be held Thursday through Saturday in the Pasadena pool.

SOUTH PASADENA COACH, Ray Solari has been named to pilot the West prep squad in the 2nd annual San Gabriel Valley All-Star contest slated for August 17 at Citrus Stadium. Ken Wells of Edgewood will coach the East. Tom Hamilton's West siders triumphed last summer, 29-26 in a ding dong doozy of a game.

LATEST ON THE JC RELEAGUING propaganda has Pasadena in what will be called the South Conference with East Los Angeles, Cerritos Rio Hondo, Mt. San Antonio and Los Angeles.

CITRUS will stay in the Eastern Conference with Riverside, Chaffey, San Bernardino, Palomar, Cypress and Saddleback J.C. The latter will field their first football team in 1969.

THE RAINS certainly have put a crimp in the well laid plans of local Little League managers. And with the season just about to get underway for real.

JUST THINK it was 20 years ago that Jackie Robinson broke the baseball color line while playing for the Brooklyn Dodgers.

HARVEY HYDE writes that he has helped to corral 22 JC transfers for the 1967 Hawaii University grid squad. One of the prize catches is All-American line-backer Curtis Seagrove of PCC.

YOUNG FOOTBALL HOPEFULS might take heed to some advice from Fran Tarkenton... "During the off season I play paddle ball, squash and badminton, run and play golf. I also do isometrics but no weight lifting."

THE ATLANTA FALCONS signed a soccer-style placepicker in Sandor Szabo. It's been a number of years since a man by the same name was a headline wrestler at the old Pasadena Arena.

The rescue demonstration held Sunday morning in the Arcadia Wilderness Park was well attended and truly a success. Displays by the U.S. Forest Service and the Arcadia Fire Dept., added to the attraction.

A scene of action as the Los Angeles County Sheriff's helicopter buzzed overhead, orange clad rescue men jumping in and out, and the roar of the crowd as "Jenks," Ray Anderson's tracking bloodhound was air lifted to a high ridge suspended by cables below the helicopter; a spooky ride, but "Jenks" didn't seem to mind.

Paramedics parachuted out above the park, their bright chutes blossoming in the sky. Smokey the bear, of the U.S. Forest Service delighted the children as he wandered about in the crowd. "Only you can prevent Forest Fires."

The members of the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Team did all they could to give the people of Sierra Madre an informative and entertaining week. A bit of the old and the new.

The fund drive still continues till the end of the month.

Sunset Magazine, now on the stands, carries a complimentary article on the city of Sierra Madre and its Historical Wilderness Area.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

This is the sad story of Uncle Ben and Aunt Jo. They had reciprocal wills. When they both "passed on" the bank would take over. If any left a couple of nieces would get it. One day Uncle Ben decided to fix the roof. Fell off. No more Uncle Ben.

Aunt Jo knew all they had was community property, joint tenancy, a mite less than $120,000 after Uncle Ben's fancy funeral. There'd be no inheritance or Estate taxes. She was right pleased to get a free ticket on this deal. But she also had known that when either of them made the obits, the box would be sealed, the accounts restricted, until the survivor had a date with the Tax Guy. But as Uncle Ben fell off the home roof and not off some mountaintop in Peru, no emergency money problems. And no probate proceedings.

In due time Aunt Jo had that date with the Tax Guy. She stumped by the trust department to get some Inheritance Tax forms. "Now," said the trust officer, "no layman can handle these intricate tax problems. See your attorney." "Tut, tut," said Aunt Jo, "gimme them forms."

The "date" over, Aunt Jo moseled home and filled out the state forms. Made copies, attached copies of will, photostatic copy of marriage and death certificates and sent the whole shebang to the Controller's office. She expected to get it back marked "See your attorney," but all she got back at that time was an appraiser's bill. "What fer," stammered Aunt Jo, "I never even saw the guy." And when she learned she paid twice as much as Uncle Ben would have paid had she fallen off the roof, her dander was up. The guy pays the appraiser's fee on only one-half and the gal pays it on the whole thing. "Why, when one-half of it's mine? These guys gotta go," said Aunt Jo, "we gotta kick 'em out!" Aunt Jo found out Internal Revenue follows the state report and if no tax due she didn't have to mess around with that Monster 706... She heaved a sigh of relief. And you know she didn't have to pay an attorney's fee.

Aunt Jo made a couple o' trips, sensibly deciding the best estate planning for her from now on would be to spent it. Then she was stunned to learn Brother Jack struck oil in Texas. Died of the shock. An old handwritten will left her a big chunk o' kale. "My, my," said Aunt Jo, "now I gotta see that lawyer guy and the guys in the trust department... Got to give somethin' to charities and fix up some trusts." But she was having a mighty good time and kept putting it off. One day a motorist failed to honor a traffic light! Bang! Crash! No more Aunt Jo.

What a field day they had in the trust department. Executor's, attorney's fees, costs... After the $60,000 exemption, the taxable federal estate was $250,000. Estate tax $65,700. And the State Inheritance Tax... and all those fees... and this and that... until a mighty big hunk was taken out of this estate.

A good lawyer can be a gal's best friend, and the guys in the trust departments are mighty nice. Aunt Jo should not have put off the drawing of the new will and making trust arrangements. But the nieces are right pleased. Sad part of all this is, I ain't one of the nieces.

Improving Conditions

For the past several months civil servants in almost every branch of government have been featured in headlines as they continue in a state of unrest, seeking pay raises, fringe benefits, etc. This has been true of Los Angeles County employees, County Hospital employees, welfare workers, professional and otherwise, all seeking to upgrade themselves in one form or another. It has led, in many instances in seething unrest, discontentment, slow-down and in many cases almost complete shut-down. Municipal employees in some localities have done likewise and in many cases one of their strong arguments has been the failure of those in government to provide the proper atmosphere for a good labor-management relationship.

In contrast, and bringing the picture into closer proximity, we can look at our local police department, and how efficiently it was run by former Chief James Bale while he was here. Even though, admittedly undermanned, and with two or three patrolman on the sick rolls he maintained a smooth-running, effective organization. We believe it was because that he was permitted to hold the reins, almost entirely in his own hands and hire and fire and deal with his personnel in the manner he felt was proper. We know of no instance where the police department failed in the performance of its duty. It succeeded in many difficult tasks that would stymie many small-town departments.

Labor management is a job for people who are highly qualified in management, if government is to maintain any degree of efficiency and in a city the size of Sierra Madre this is important, to say the least. It is our contention that it should be the job of the City Administrator to handle all city employee matter, and it would fall on his shoulders alone, answerable only to City Council should he fail.

The duties of the City Administrator include being a liaison between government and the people and between civil servants and the Council and the weight should properly rest there. The Administrator should be provided with sufficient funds to get the job done and then should be given almost a free hand to make use of his talents to provide services needed to keep the city operating.

Our City Administrator must have proven himself well qualified to members of the Council, or else he would not have been hired for the job. He has had adequate training and experience in the past and now it would seem in the best interest of the taxpayers to make full use of those talents.

The turn-over in the number of employees, mostly department heads, have certainly shown that there is much room for improvement here locally, and we believe this would be a step in the right direction. If the Administrator is given more of a free hand and the situation does not improve then we must begin to dig deeper into the overall picture.

The office of administrator, by its very name, implies the duties that should be carried on, but if he is to be just an office manager than the name administrator is certainly a misnomer. If we are to get our dollar's value, not only from this office, but from every facet of local government we must have the proper relationship built up and maintained under even the most trying circumstances. No one can argue the fact that a contented employee will always prove the most satisfactory and will give dollar value for every dollar paid.

From past record, it is obvious that we have much to gain and little to lose by attempting to centralize the burden on the administrator, as we have become a training ground or interim employment spot for employees. Those that we train should find it advantageous to stay, not only from the monetary standpoint, but because he has found the working atmosphere conducive to the feeling of security and satisfaction in a job well done.

While it is true, in some instances, that a small town may not be able to offer the same monetary rewards of a big city like Los Angeles, there are many compensations that can tend to make up the difference; the proper spirit of comradeship and self-accomplishment that is hard to find in a "big-time" operation.

If we cannot offer these advantages, then we are ing ourselves short, and other municipalities will reap the gain from the seeds that we have sown. We cannot continue to have employees leave us after we have nurtured them and cultivated them until they reach peak efficiency and then see them depart for "greener pastures."

It may seem that we are trying to put our City Administrator, Darwin Dennis, on the spot. But, we feel confident that he can carry the plan through to fruition, and then perhaps we can see the day that the only way employees will leave us will be through retirement, after years of devoted service to a town they love.

'No Vacancy'

When a landlord is able to put out his "No Vacancy" sign, it is only natural that he gets that happy feeling knowing that he is using his property to its fullest potential.

The same is true in a city's business district; when there are no store going begging for occupancy it is a healthy sign that the people in that town are "buyers." Sierra Madre is fast reaching the "No Vacancy" stage, with the opening of two new ice cream parlors, a major appliance dealer, coin laundry, etc. etc. We will soon add a family billiard room, a radio controlled models shop, a typewriter shop and a dress shop to our business district. This will cut the number of vacant stores down to three or four, a big improvement over recent conditions. We hope that they will all enjoy success and will be well patronized by our local buying public. It not only speaks well for the community, but puts money in the city treasury in the form of sales tax.

It is a pleasure to welcome the new businessmen into the business district and we hope to see them take an active part in promoting our city's virtues for all to behold. And we are sure that they will welcome old and new residents alike to stop in their places to see what they have to offer.

Residents of this town are "real buyers" and it only stands to reason that they have much to gain by buying locally. It is here that you are treated as a "Neighbor With A Need, and Not A Stranger with a Pocketbook."

DR. HENRY V. WITTY

Management of this newspaper is not capable of answering questions to this column; however letters to the editor will be published.

Few people are aware that an in-depth study entitled, "The Supreme Court As An Instrument Of Global Conquest" was started as early as 1946 by S.P.X. Research Associates and submitted to the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee in 1958.

The fact that the report of this study was effectively suppressed and withheld from the American public has received little or no mention in our liberally-oriented press.

The S.P.X. (Soviet Principle 10) report is herewith presented in part: "The United States Supreme Court as an instrument of the Communist global conquest is a concept abhorrent to loyal Americans.

"Yet the situation, the documented record, and the Supreme Court's peculiar constitutional capabilities made this study inevitable in the earliest days of paralysis as a principle of Soviet global warfare.

"This study is concerned with the application of paralysis as a principle of Soviet global warfare, within the American governmental structure, through the United States Supreme Court. This study deals with the role of the Supreme Court in the war we are losing. It is predicated on documented facts, not all of them palatable."

In the interest of brevity, this study presents the following questions and documented answers: "Question 1—Does the global record of the Communist conquest by paralysis suggest the U.S. Supreme Court, by reason of function and character, a likely fulcrum for pressure operations to paralyze anti-Communist forces in the American Government? Answer: Affirmative.

"The power of the U.S. Supreme Court to paralyze at a stroke, the antisubversive statutes, processes, and forces of 42 individual States, Alaska and Hawaii, regardless of the constitutional reservations of State powers, and the expressed intent of Congress in the Smith Act, has been demonstrated by the virtual collapse of State antisubversion agencies since the April 2, 1956, decision in Pennsylvania v. Nelson.

"Only the Supreme Court, by virtue of its peculiar character, capabilities, and functions could have achieved such an overturn of government without violence.

"Question 2—Do Supreme Court patterns coincide with, or follow, established pressure patterns of the Communist global conquest in paralysis? Answer: Affirmative.

"Destruction of internal security from within (almost an invariable prerequisite) has marked pressure patterns of every government overturned by the Communist global conquest in the past 15 years.

"Of 10 cases bearing on internal security of the United States reviewed by months, all 10 have been decided against enforcement of internal security laws and/or administrative regulations.

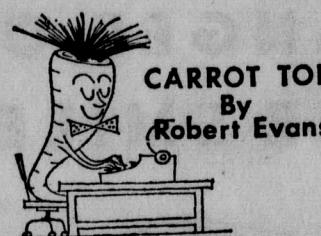

"The established Court pattern falls within the 'use - the - courts, use - the - judges, use - the - Constitution' formula of global conquest enunciated by Lavrenti P. Beria to American students at Lenin University.

"Revealing, but not surprising, is the Court's acknowledgment of the influence of a notorious Swedish Communist, Gunnar Myrdal, as an authority in its May 17, 1954, segregation decision which has triggered racial conflicts in the United States like those envisioned by Stalin in his American Black Belt program of Negro domination.

"As a conscious and effective instrument of the Communist global conquest, this same Gunnar Myrdal is so important to Moscow that the Soviets made his appointment as executive secretary to the United Nations Economic Mission for Europe a condition of Kremlin participation. Gunnar Myrdal, expelled from office as Swedish Trade Minister for double-dealing with Moscow, is the author of An American Dilemma, to which the Supreme Court referred in footnote 11 of its segregation decision, along with other modern authorities 'quite a few of whom were on Federal subversive lists.'

"Question 3—Have recent decisions of the Supreme Court assumed a pattern of aid and comfort to the enemy? Answer: Affirmative.

"Affirmative is an understatement. The Court's decisions have done more for enemy forces and objectives than might have been accomplished by any other agency or form of paralysis, short of actual overthrow of the American Government." Unquote S.P.X. report to U.S. Senate, 1958.

Just like the other day I was asking my older daughter Candy what was the meaning of the word "Unconscious." While I was standing there thinking of all the technical answers she might give me, if she knew them, she only pondered a minute before she came up with the answer . . .

—CT—
And with all of the matter-of-factness, she said: "Why, Daddy, that's someone who is asleep and doesn't know it." is asleep and doesn't know it . . . and do you realize there are a great many people hereabouts in that condition . . . my, my, my.

—CT—
Now since we have that foolishness out of our mind we will settle down and close this column with a mouthful of words that will start you thinking:

—CT—
"Riches, health, talents, and opportunities are not equally divided among men, but the gift of 'TIME' is the same to all. The most powerful man on earth cannot be granted an extra hour in the day.

—CT—
"God, Who gives the tree a season for growth, blossom, fruit and rest, gives to man sufficient time for every purpose. Time cannot be purchased, sold, stored up, nor cast away. It may bring glory, it may bring shame, but in the end it will serve God's purpose." . . . Think this one over, I do hope, I hope, I hope, I hope.

Ten Sierra Madre girls know how it feels to be in the movies. They played "atmosphere" party in a film starring Junior Coughlin, Wally Reid Jr. and darling Florence McKenney.

There has been a proposed new plan of transportation between here and San Marino. Buses will replace the present trolley trains of Pacific Electric.

Here are some good food buys from Perry's Market: oleomargarine by Nucoa is 22 cents a pound; orange juice is 12 cents for a 13½-ounce can; ground round is 22 cents a pound; ground beef is 15 cents a pound, and 10 pounds of flour is 48 cents.

There's an especially attractive film that Sierra Madreams will have a chance to see. It is "Madame Butterfly," with beautiful Mary Pickford. That young lady certainly can act! It's going to be shown this coming Saturday night at the club house.

Who in the world would think the Smiths have The Big Money?

California Federal would.

At this stage, those nice young Smiths don't have much more than each other. And a brand new California Federal savings account. Do we care that it has less than $100 in it? Not at all. We give them the same Big Money treatment we give our biggest savers. Friendly, concerned service. Unequalled savings management. Big yields on insured savings. And the $1.4 billion assets-strength of the nation's largest federal. Some people think we should just cater to big savers. We don't. We never forget we were small once, too.

5.25% current annual rate. Compounded daily. Nation's highest yield on insured savings.

Dividends paid quarterly. Funds received by 10th of any month earn from first of month. After the 10th, funds earn from date received. Funds in account 3 months earn to day withdrawn. Accounts insured to $15,000 by a permanent agency of the U.S. Government. Established in 1925. Federally chartered and supervised.

Pool Variance Again Granted

A 10 day appeal period is now in effect.

A public hearing was continued over from the last meeting on the variance request of Jean Lilliano for a variance for property on Stonehouse Road. Mr. Lilliano was seeking a lot split and conditional use permit for land adjoining the site of the proposed Los Angeles County Brush Fire Control Station at Stonehouse Road and Grand View.

The lot split provide for lots 88 by 130 adjacent to the 120 by 130 foot lot requested for the fire station. The variance and conditional use permit was granted on a split vote.

The next public hearing for a lot split for Inez Burton at 15 and 31 E. Alegria was withdrawn when a more favorable solution was decided on at the last minute. A re-application will be filed for hearing at the next meeting of the commission.

The proposed Teen Center at 242 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., adjacent to Memorial Park was next. The commission, by state law, was required to report whether the proposed use of the property was in conformance with the master plan of the city. Again, on a split decision, the commission ruled that the use would be in conformance. The ruling will be sent to the City Council as part of a three-part requirement set by them, before the money will be allocated for major alterations to this property which is a single-family dwelling at the present time.

The chairman Robert Hartman announced that the Civic Center committee had been meeting every Tuesday night for several weeks and that a comprehensive report would be ready by the next meeting. He indicated that it would they permit more time for the general plan study that was put aside to permit concentration on the proposed Civic Center.

A proposed joint meeting with the Arcadia Planning Commission will be set for the near future to permit discussion of mutual problems and possible solutions.

A request for a change in the zoning code to permit foster homes in R-1 zones was taken under advisement by the attorney, with a report to be made at the next meeting. This request is being made by Los Angeles County Department of Social Service.

The hearing for plans for Sunnyside Lane was continued over to permit further surveying necessary to pinpoint property locations.

Rummage Sale

Sierra Madre Methodist Church will be bustling with excitement on Saturday, April 29, when Girl Scout Troop 5 will hold its Spring Rummage Sale. They will be selling everything from soup to nuts between the hours of 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The proceeds from this event will go to financing their trip to the state's capitol.

Villa Views by Toni

Carol Grizzle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mervin A. Grizzle of Villa Heights, is back in Berkeley again to continue her senior year. She recently returned from the College of 7 Seas sponsored by Chapman College.

They had a magnificent trip, departing last October from New York. They went on to Portugal, Spain, Italy, Greece, Turkey, Cairo, Port Said the Red Sea to Bombay, India, Colombo in Ceylon, Malay, Hong Kong, Kobi in Japan, Yokohama, Tokyo, and finally to Hawaii before returning home. They had classes all of the time they were on board ship and there were field trips planned all of the way.

One of the experiences that Carol enjoyed the most was her opportunity to visit in the homes of the people in the different ports and to learn their customs. Carol is a speech, arts, and drama major.

The William Sandbergs of Old House Road recently had a luau to honor 14 members of their family that were leaving for a two week stay in the Islands. They thought it only fitting and proper to get them all in the mood to go (as if anyone needs to get in the mood!).

The guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Samuelson and their four children, Gail, Brooke, Scott, and Jill, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Samuelson and their children, Reid, Lisa, Laura, and David, and the children's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Samuelson, all of La Canada. The other members of the party were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barter and their daughter Janet, Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Al Carlson, Mrs. D. M. Samuelson, and Miss Anna Paulson.

Their guests ranged in ages from four to 91 and they all enjoyed the party equally.

The Sandbergs didn't go to Hawaii in spite of being in the mood. They took off for a business and pleasure trip to New York instead. They had ten days in and around New York doing the things that typical tourists do. They did get to see the George Tuckers in Northbrook, Illinois. The Tuckers used to live on Wynn Road.

They also visited with friends in Connecticut and Massachusetts.

Pvt. John Aney Completes Radio Teletype Course

Private John L. Aney, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Aney, 51 E. Bonita Ave., completed a radio teletype operation course at the Army Southeastern Signal School, Ft. Gordon, Ga., April 14.

He received instruction in the operation of radio transmitting and receiving sets by voice and Morse code.

The Columbia River, which serves the 6.3 million people of the Pacific Northwest, has 10 times the water of the Colorado River, which serves the Pacific Southwest's 25.8 million inhabitants.

You and Your Neighbors

City Hall's had their share of the springtime illnesses. Councilman Richard King and City Administrator Darwin Dennis are recovering from real serious bouts with the flu. They were both out a week with high fevers. Delores Thill, Lanny Wagner and Sue Clayson are three sad victims of the measles.

Lola Rudbach, the Realtor, really adds a bright spot in these dark rainy days. She has the cutest clear umbrella with spring flowers on it. It's so jolly looking; that's what these gruesome days need . . . a little cheering up!

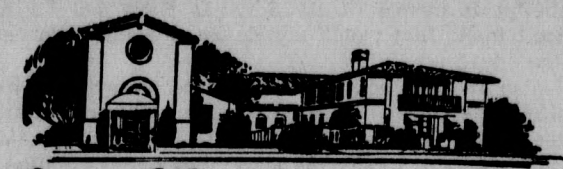

Mrs. Edith Buchan of 677 W. Montecito has the kind of attitude we all should strive to retain. She sees the good side of everything. She pointed out some of the good advantages to all this rain we're having. She's been noticing how much greener the landscape has become and how much faster everything has grown. Having an automatic water-er like this she finds things to do which have been put off until spare time showed itself. Now she's finding time to get all the indoor chores done and ahead of them so when the sun peeks through she'll have plenty of time to care for her garden.

Mario & Louetta Farrar Entertain Shakespeare Club

On Tuesday, May 2, at 1:45 in the Shakespeare Auditorium the Shakespeare Club of Pasadena will present Mario and Louetta Farrar in a program of beautiful music and romantic reminiscences, combining their magnificent baritone and soprano voices in one of the finest presentations in this part of the country. Mrs. Harvey H. Gunn, program chairman; Mrs. James C. Chambers, president of the Shakespeares Club.

At the beginning of the meeting, Miss Elizabeth Flint will give a memorial for a deceased member. In the morning at 10, members will enter their arrangements for the annual flower show. At 10:30 in the Shakespeare Auditorium, colorful slides of Christchurch, New Zealand, will be shown. These are spectacular pictures of areas seldom seen by tourists and guaranteed to delight the viewers. Joe Littlefield, sponsored by Bandini, will work in some helpful garden hints while showing the pictures, and will answer questions about garden problems. There will be a drawing for Bandini products.

In the Shakespeare dining room at 12 noon the flower show winners will be announced. Guests will be Mr. Joe Littlefield and flower show judges. There will be allowed for viewing the entries between luncheon and the afternoon program. Mrs. A. Leonard Stevenson, director of the Garden Department, and her committee, Mmes. Francis Gorton, Earle L. Hadley, Theodore Hagstrom, Robert MacDonald, Edward Mitulski, Robert F. Staib, Severed Stephenson and Miss Lillian M. Nelson, will have charge of the flower show.

State Water Project Gets Thirteen Bids

The State Department of Water Resources opened bids in Los Angeles last week for development of the Pearblossom Pumping Plant site of the State Water Project. The apparent low of the 13 bids received was $1,179,597 from Altifillisch-Fulton Company of Anaheim. Other bids received ranged to $1,883,257. The estimate by department engineers was $1,222,652. Pearblossom Pumping Plant will be constructed in Los Angeles County about 12 miles southeast of the City of Palmdale.

The work includes excavation of the plant bowl, drainage and flood channel improvement and construction of access roads. The job will require 4,200 cubic yards of concrete for channel lining and 2,720 cubic yards of air blown mortar, and excavation of about 3.2 million cubic yards of open cut and 90,000 cubic yards of channel. Work under this contract is scheduled for completion in June, 1968.

County and City Sign Recreation Pact For Land

County supervisors recently approved a two-way agreement dealing with the development of recreational facilities at Flood Control District facilities in Sierra Madre, announced Supervisor Warren M. Dorn.

The city is co-signer on the pact with the district.

It provides for the two agencies to cooperate, where feasible, in utilizing district lands for recreation in addition to their traditional flood control and water conservation uses.

Under terms of the agreement, Sierra Madre will assume liability that may occur as a result of the use or modification of FCD rights of way and facilities for recreation, Dorn said.

It was emphasized that recreational use of the properties will be subordinated to the basic flood control and water conservation purposes of the area as determined by District Chief Engineer Walter J. Wood.

Security First Issues Survey Of Building

Total valuation of all building permits in the city of Sierra Madre for 1966 amounted to $1,282,000, according to Security First National Bank's newest "Survey of Building and Real Estate Activity in the Fourteen Southern Counties of California."

Paul O'Sullivan, manager of Security Bank's Foothill and Rosemead branch, said that during the past year, permits were issued for a total of 34 family dwelling units in the city.

Copies of the bank's comprehensive, 40-page report are now available to the public, free of charge, at all Security Bank branches throughout the Southern California area.

The bank's study, with numerous tabulations documenting the Southland's construction industry, is of interest to persons in real estate, representatives of building and construction industries, architects and developers.

Southern California's activity in the construction industry for 1966 was estimated at $3.5 billion 15 per cent below the 1965 volume and 22 per cent less than in the peak year of 1963.

"In sharp contrast to the buoyant conditions evident in most sectors of Southern California's economy, the building and construction industry last year experienced its lowest level of activity since 1958," Security Bank's report noted.

PJPC Sponsors Opening of Italian Villa

One of Southern California's few authentic Italian Villas has been selected as the site for the 1967 Showcase of Interior Design.

The Showcase will be open to the public at 865 Orlando Road, San Marino, from Sunday, April 23 through Sunday, May 7, Mondays through Fridays from 11 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. and Saturdays and Sundays from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Every afternoon from 1 to 4 there will be a program on some phase of art. Tickets are $1.50 for adults and 50 cents for children, and will be available at the door. For further ticket information call 283-3631.

'Windfalls' Go Unreported

Taxpayers' Association Seeks Better Information

For the second time in two years the state department of education has come up with millions of dollars, leading the California Taxpayers' Association to say it is time the department re-stores normal fiscal reports so "windfalls" of $40 and $20 million do not recur.

Robert C. Brown, executive vice president of Cal-Tax, blamed discontinuance by the school department of the annual compilation of Apportionments of the State School Fund for letting the more than $60 million be concealed.

The report, in three parts, had been published by the department for 44 years but it was discontinued early in 1966.

More than $40 million was found last year and was allocated in a last day amendment to AB 52 to "speedup unification" of schools.

Now another $20 million has been found by the department of finance and Governor Reagan has said this with other newly found money will be enough to permit the state to operate without withholding.

By discontinuing the published report which accounted for all state school funds, Superintendent of Schools Max Rafferty and his staff have provided themselves

Rummage Sale Held In Arcade Building

Rummage, from the mundane to the elegant, will be offered for sale April 28-29 by the Arcadia Republican Women's Club. The annual event will be held in the Arcade Building, 36 E. Huntington Drive, Arcadia, with sale hours from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

A wide assortment of good merchandise is being collected at Republican Headquarters, 119 S. First Ave. Arrangements have been made to pick up contributions. Further information may be secured from headquarters, 447-3534, or by contacting Mrs. E. C. Rhodes, 120 W. Orange Grove, 355-9144 or Mrs. Sally Lewis, 345 W. Camino Real, 446-1290.

Cobwebs

roduced a traffic ordinance which may not be too popular with some of you fast drivers in town. He proposed we set a speed limit on the roads in Sierra Madre, especially near the big intersections.

Sierra Madre is in for the long awaited natural gas service of the Southern Counties Gas Company. It's costing them $40,000 to hitch us up with Monrovia, Our neighbor to the south, Arcadia, is having the same service installed in that community also. The combined growth will set the company back $40,000.

Spring Meet

Members of the Pasadena Mills College Club have chosen to hold their spring meeting and luncheon at the La Canada Country Club on Thursday, April 27 at 10:30 a.m. The agenda includes election of officers for 1967-68. Mrs. Lannes Sharman and Mrs. James Van Curen of Pasadena are in charge of reservations and arrangements for members and their guests.

Tax Return Deadline Met

Sierra Madre Post Office certainly deserves a bit of recognition for their fine job last Monday April 17.

The postmen were off work at 6:30 p.m. but they stayed a while longer, until the mail truck came out from Los Angeles and took all the tax returns they could so our citizens could meet the income tax deadline.

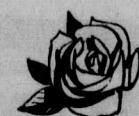

One of our grateful citizens says they were still working when she turned hers in at 7 p.m. If these people hadn't stayed and put themselves to the trouble for their neighbors some of us would have had to drive all the way into Pasadena to get those tax returns post marked early enough. The rest of us would have had to pay the penalty.

It's certainly comforting to have people like this serving the community.

The Columbia River drains an area of some 220,000 square miles in America's Northwest, but has enough water to serve an area 10 times larger.

Hydrologists estimate that the average annual discharge of Columbia River water into the Pacific Ocean amounts to about 52 trillion gallons.

FROM THE Fire Side

It has been suggested that we resurrect a column that used to appear in this paper several years ago about the activities of our local volunteer fire company, so we thought we might give it a whirl. There probably are a few old fire fighting buffs in town that still hold some interest in the company, and possibly some residents that see the trucks on the street from time to time (between fires) and wonder "What's Cooking?"

Right now the company is meeting every Wednesday night for drill plus the regular drill that precedes the bi-monthly meetings.

The past few Wednesdays have been spent polishing, taking inventory and "spitting" the trucks and equipment; and there is a lot of equipment to "spitify."

Some driver training has been the order of the day and the trucks have been rolling on some of the streets that might prove to offer a bit of difficulty in maneuvering, at times.

Friday's drills are usually "wet." The men lay lines to imaginary blazes and tackle different types of hose lays. The Friday drills are usually under the direct command of Fire Chief Brown while Wednesday night are usually under the charge of training officer, Jim Cass, captain.

Engineer Joe Grippi drops in regularly at the Crown Manufacturing Co. to check up on the progress they are making in building up the new fire truck the company should be receiving before too many more weeks pass. Last report is that it is progressing right along now. The volunteers are looking forward to the arrival of the new 1,500 gallon-per-minute pumper.

You might ask one of the firemen which one of their members had trouble the other night opening up the door to the fire house. He was so mad he's been pulling a practice drill every night for the past two weeks. He's got it down to such a science he can hit it at 20 paces, blindfolded, and with a flying start.

"Let's

Dry Cleaning"

By Joseph Delgatto Sr.

For years and years the accepted fabric for men's suits was wool. Tweed, cheviot, cashmere, shetland and worsted were among the most popular. It was believed that only wool would give that coveted look of fine tailoring and clean-cut importance.

The emergence of man-made fabrics brought a drastic change. Almost overnight, it seemed, synthetics found their place in men's fashion. New, wrinkle-resisting weaves made their appearance. Dacron, a fabric which boasts extraordinary wrinkle resistance and press retention, has met with wide acceptance.

For the cleaner, new fabrics mean new cleaning problems. We made experiment after experiment until we found the perfect cleaning formula for Dacron, a formula which gently cleanses deep down into the fabric without injuring its delicate fibers, and helps the garment to retain its crisp, new look.

Whatever the fabric, you can send us any article of clothing with the comfortable assurance that it will be treated "tenderly." We carefully test the fabric for fiber content to ascertain the right cleaning formula for thorough cleaning, and one that will add life and body to the fabric after repeated cleanings.

Free moth-proofing of everything we clean.

Dodge To Coordinate CSLA Project

Richard C. Dodge Jr., for the past two years director of Parks and Recreation for the City of Sierra Madre, has been appointed College Union Coordinator for Cal State L.A. It was announced by Dr. Robert V. Brass, director of student activities and housing.

The proposed College Union, on which construction is expected to begin by 1970, will be a $3 million building housing a ballroom, lounges, reception rooms, meeting rooms student offices, and related recreation facilities such as a bowling center.

Before joining the City of Sierra Madre in 1965, Dodge was supervisor of recreation for the El Monte Recreation and Parks Department. Earlier, he worked for the San Fernando Valley Youth Foundation and South Gate Recreation and Parks Department. He earned his B.S. degree in 1961 from Los Angeles State College, forerunner of Cal State L.A., and is nearing completion of studies for an M.S. degree at the college.

Dodge lives at 923 Van Horn Ave., West Covina.

Food, rest, mental peace and exercise are the four keys to old age.
